The image is a collage of two photographs. The left photograph shows a long, narrow hallway with a white ceiling. Several circular and rectangular duct outlets are visible along the ceiling. A green 'EXIT' sign is mounted on a dark door at the end of the hallway. The right photograph shows a food court area with a white ceiling featuring a large, multi-tiered duct outlet. The floor is made of light-colored tiles. In the background, there are wooden pillars, a glass partition, and a menu board displaying various food items. A large, semi-transparent watermark reading 'Symphonon' is diagonally overlaid across both images.

Ducting – All Machines are connected to 90 feet duct having 15 outlets.
